

DESCENDANTS OF
Joseph Hildedge Cottenoire (1874-1966) and of Alida Goulet (1873-1940)
Family Reunion - August 10th, 2007

This get together was held at the Gillies Bay camp in Latulippe in county of Témiscamingue.

In total, 73 family members took part in this event, all descendants of Joseph Hildedge and their spouses and children.

It was an occasion for some to visit the location of the ancestral farm in St-Bruno-de-Guigues and to visit Fortunat's house which was moved to the village.

In afternoon of August 11 and throughout the weekend, we exchanged our memories and in evening, people sang several songs which reminded them of many evenings spent around Rose-Aimee's piano, Fortunat's wife, at the farm next to Joseph's.

At the time of the brunch on Sunday morning, several expressed their wish that this meeting not be the only one and this site is an obvious result of this first meeting.

A photo album was given to each participant, the contents of which are found on this website.

It is however unfortunate that among Joseph and Alida's eleven children, only Fortunat, Eva, Léo and Georges had family members present. I do not wish to blame anyone because several of the descendants of the 9 children who have continued the family line, could not be reached whereas others had prior obligations.

I would like to point out the collaboration of all cousins who gathered the photographs and various documents that the participants saw in the album.

In the pages which follow, you will be able to see some photographs taken at the time of this event, hoping that it will give you the taste for take part in a forthcoming meeting. Unfortunately several people could not be photographed and we apologize to them.
